Climate change is beginning to affect our daily lives in Tampa Bay. What options do we have to mitigate future climate change impacts and adapt to sea level rise, increased temperatures and changes in precipitation? What is within our individual control and where is there a need for policy changes?

We want to hear from you! Join UF/IFAS Extension Pinellas County and USF Department of Anthropology for a community conversation about climate change.

Your input will help us understand how we can better communicate with you about climate change. Light refreshments will be provided. Each participant will receive a FREE insulated shopping bag with educational information.

Extension programs are open to all persons without regard to race, color, sex, age, disability, religion, or national origin.
